Probers Charge Brewster Misused Teamster Funds

Evidence Union Money In Home, Racing Stable

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—A Senate rackets investigation rolled out a mass of evidence today that Frank W. Brewster, a top Teamsters Union official, applied cash from the union till to a home, racing stable, and costly tailor-made suits.

There was evidence, too, that the boss of the Teamsters Western Conference doubled up on expense accounts and got some of the gifts the union spread around at Christmas time.

Finally, after the grilling had gone on for hours, the investigators cited larceny laws to the sweating, squirming witness.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the special committee looking into alleged labor-industry racketeering, said today's testimony "on the face of it clearly indicates that some of those funds have been misappropriated" and that Brewster benefitted personally.

The union executive said he could prove before the committee adjourned for the day he never used union money "for selfish purposes." That wasn't accomplished, and the hearing goes on again tomorrow.

Picture "Isn't Good"

Brewster had conceded earlier that the picture showing union checks financed some of his private operations "isn't good." But he insisted every dime will be paid back.

It was Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, who quoted the State of Washington's law that anyone who secretes, withholds or appropriates funds of other persons in his custody is guilty of larceny.

"Would you say, Mr. Brewster," Kennedy asked in severe tones, "that when you used union funds to pay your personal bills... this was larceny?"

With perspiration oozing from his brow, Brewster said it was a legal question he was incapable of answering.

Summing up the day's activities, Kennedy said the evidence showed union funds were used to pay tailoring bills, repair a horse van, finance expenses of a jockey and meet other of Brewster's personal expenses.

"I didn't know that was done," Brewster claimed.

Checks And Affidavits

Some of the bills might have been paid without his knowledge, he said, by the late John Sweeney, secretary-treasurer of the Teamsters Western Conference. Brewster said he made out "some checks in blank" and Sweeney might have filled them in.

As the committee unfolded the financial story of Brewster and the nation's largest union, with the help of checks, affidavits and expense vouchers, some of the union funds from member dues went into:

A $35,000 apartment at Palm Springs, Calif., which Brewster said, in disputed testimony, was for union members and outside tenants.

A $4,000 down payment on a home Brewster bought at lush Palm Springs, Calif.

Expenses of some $2,000 or more for his jockey, his race horse trainer and the trainer's son, a union employee who exercised Brewster's horses, and repairs on his six-horse van.

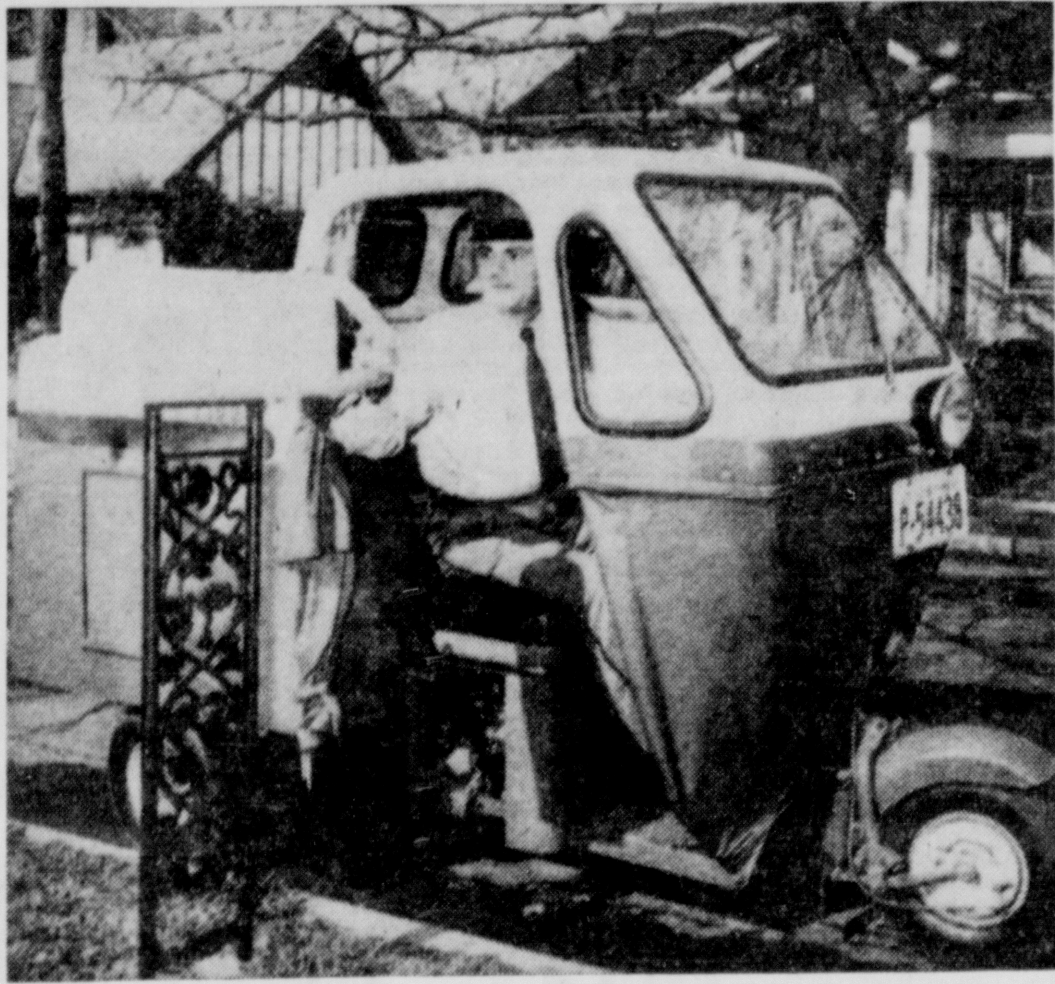

The purchase of boxes at six California race tracks—$2670 in 1954 and 1955.

Senate Group Backs Ike Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—The administration's civil rights proposals won approval of a Senate Judiciary subcommittee today but they still faced a doubtful future.

The Senate group sent the four-point legislation to the full Judiciary Committee by a 4-2 vote despite Southern cries of "government by injunction."

Subcommittee Chairman Hennings (D-Mo.) announced he would press for prompt action by the full committee.

As on previous votes on similar bills, today's action found Northern and Southern members divided. Hennings and Sens. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), Watkins (R-Utah) and Hruska (R-Neb.) were reported voting for, and Sens. Ervin (D-NC) and Olin Johnston (D-SC) against.

House Bill Moved Up

A basically similar bill was approved yesterday by the House Judiciary Committee and now awaits a go-ahead from the Rules Committee. There is some doubt whether the House will take up the hot issue for a vote before the Easter recess starting in mid-April.

As approved by the Senate subcommittee, the bill resembles one passed by the House last year except for one minor change. The 1956 measure, which won the blessing of the Eisenhower administration, died in the Senate.

The subcommittee bill (1) establishes a bipartisan commission to investigate alleged violations of civil rights, (2) sets up a new civil rights division in the Department of Justice, (3) permits the attorney general to seek injunctions to prevent infringement of voting and other civil rights, and (4) allows the government to bring suits in federal court without first exhausting possible remedies in state courts or agencies.

Bill Called "Mess" At Present

A spokesman for the subcommittee said the bill technically is

"a mess" at present because of conflicting provisions. He said the group acted today to get it before the full committee where what he called defects could be corrected.

Hennings said he would try to get the bill on the full committee's agenda next Monday. That committee is headed by Sen. Eastland (D-Miss.), a foe of civil rights legislation. Hennings said he would move to have the bill considered at every meeting and demand roll-call votes on the question. He also will oppose further hearings, he said.

'Lady Wonder' Dies At Age 33

RICHMOND, Va., March 19 (AP)—Lady Wonder, a hefty brown mare billed as having horse sense that was super-human, died of a heart attack today at the somewhat ancient animal age of 33.

During her lifetime Lady "answered" questions of fact and fortune for thousands of visitors who flocked to the suburban home of her mistress, Mrs. Claudia Fonda.

Mrs. Fonda insisted Lady could read minds and was clairvoyant. But skeptics were more inclined to the view that Mrs. Fonda herself possessed these powers and not the horse.

They contended there was some sort of system whereby Mrs. Fonda typed the answers to Lady, who plunked out her replies on a big typewriter-like contraption containing letters and numbers.

But Lady's abilities or inabilities never stopped the flow of visitors. Late in 1952 they began arriving in droves after police in Quincy, Mass., credited Lady with providing the clues that led to the finding of the body of Danny Matson, a 4-year-old child missing for two years.

The plant is at Frederickson, Wash. Production units are scattered over a heavily wooded area, with trees left standing to help absorb the force of any such blasts.

An explosives expert said explosions usually occur in the "jelly line," where the mixtures are packed into tubes.

Newsman and photographers were barred from the area. Olson said plant officials called it a safety precaution because other units of the plant remained in operation.

Two months ago a similar blast into a powder plant about 30 miles from Frederickson killed six men.

Wilson Orders Defense Offices To Cut Payrolls

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson today ordered a 12 per cent cut in the number of civilians and military people working in defense offices in the greater Washington area. He served notice that similar cuts will soon be extended to many headquarters at home and abroad.

The order specifically tells the Defense Department, the Army, the Navy and the Air Force to eliminate 6,414 jobs in the Washington area within the 12 months starting July 1. The reduction is based upon a military and civilian payroll of 53,986 in that area, more than half of them in the Pentagon, at the end of last December.

Combat Strength Unaffected

The manpower economy drive does not affect combat strength in the field anywhere, but is specifically confined to major headquarters involved in administrative and office work.

Also specifically excluded from the mandatory cut are such agencies as the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the North Atlantic Treaty offices here and the Court of Military Appeals. Those three agencies now employ a total of 644 people, military and civilian.

Loopholes Plugged

In his new order, Wilson sought to plug loopholes used by the services in previous manpower economy drives. He specifically forbade confining the reductions to people in low grade, low pay categories. Wilson also prohibited evasion of the order through such expedients as the assigning of military or civilians to the Pentagon for temporary duty.

The reduction will be accomplished, insofar as possible, by normal attrition. Defense officials said there is little likelihood that anyone now holding a job will be discharged involuntarily.

Macmillan Leaves For Bermuda Talks

LONDON, March 19 (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan left by plane tonight for what he called understanding and friendship talks with President Eisenhower in Bermuda.

He expressed confidence that "a great deal will be gained" from a frank exchange of views. Macmillan was accompanied by Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, U. S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney, and 39 advisers and secretaries.

They are due in Bermuda tomorrow morning after a stopover at Gander on their 3,600-mile flight.

Nasser's Plan For Operating Canal Studied

Proposal Ignores Western Formula For Toll Collection

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—The United States received today and took under close study a new Egyptian proposal for running the Suez Canal. Initial response was that it fell short of satisfactory.

The six-point proposal was made public by the Egyptian Embassy coincident with the departure for Cairo of United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold. He will talk with Egyptian President Nasser on the subject of the canal's future operation.

Nasser's decision to make the document public appeared to be a preliminary move to his talks with Hammarskjold. The U. N. chief is taking with him a plan for collection of Suez tolls proposed by the United States, Britain, France and Norway.

Nasser Ignores West Plan

Nasser's proposal ignored this plan. But he did not reject it outright, in the opinion of key officials.

The proposal was disclosed shortly after a top State Department official had declared in Washington that "immediately before us is the necessity for agreeing on interim arrangements for use of the canal."

The Egyptian note declared Egypt "has proved herself thoroughly able to manage navigation in the canal." It blamed the British-French and Israeli attack on Egypt last fall for blocking the canal.

All Tolls To Egypt

It declared: 1. Egypt will respect the 1888 agreement internationalizing the canal.

2. Claims for compensation of stockholders will be settled directly or by arbitration.

3. Canal tolls will be paid in advance "to the Suez Canal Authority in Egypt or to its nominees."

4. A special fund, built up out of a portion of tolls collected, will be set aside for improving the canal "or any other programs designed to meet the increase of traffic."

5. Egypt "is still loyal to the purpose of cooperation" and will issue "another detailed statement."

BRT Postpones Two Walkouts

CLEVELAND, March 19 (AP)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen today postponed two scheduled strikes, against the New York Central and the Grand Trunk Western Railroads. Both had been scheduled to commence tomorrow.

The National Railway Mediation Board intervened in the New York Central dispute, which would have idled 20,000 employees between Buffalo and Chicago.

A federal judge issued a temporary injunction against the Grand Trunk walkout, which would have affected about 7,000 workers.

Both disputes involve working conditions. W. E. B. Chase, brotherhood vice president, said the union has 23 grievances against the New York Central, including what he called "undiscriminate discipline" and "unwarranted" firings. The mediation board sent Frank Switzer to Cleveland to start new talks.

Hoffa Indicted By Grand Jury

Teamster Leader Accused Of Probe Spy Conspiracy

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted James R. (Jimmy) Hoffa, a top leader of the Teamsters Union, on charges of setting up a conspiracy to buy secrets of the Senate rackets investigation.

Hoffa was arrested last Wednesday night by the FBI, and Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) of the investigating committee said he was "very gratified" at the prompt indictment.

Indicted with Hoffa was Hyman I. Fischbach, a Miami lawyer, who McClellan said last week acted as an agent for Hoffa in what the senator pictured as a plot to plant a spy in the midst of the investigators.

Probers May Quiz Hoffa

The indictment, handed to U. S. District Judge Richmond B. Keech, accused Hoffa and Fischbach of conspiring "corruptly to influence, obstruct and impede" the McClellan committee inquiry. The investigation up to now has been concerned primarily with allegations that the Teamsters Union trafficked with vice and corruption in the Pacific Northwest.

Hoffa is a vice president of the Teamsters Union and head of its Central States Conference, with headquarters at Detroit. Committee aides have said it was planned to question him later.

Another witness the senators have been waiting to hear is Dave Beck, president of the Teamsters Union.

Lawyer Offered $18,000

The grand jury report today said that Hoffa, on returning some committee papers he was alleged to have received in furtherance of the conspiracy, remarked "that it looked like Beck's goose was cooked if that is what they have on Beck, and at that time expressed the desire to receive more information of the same character."

Hoffa has long been considered the No. 2 man in the Teamsters Union, if not No. 1 in its behind-the-scenes operations.

Among those who testified before the grand jury was John C. Cheasty of New York, an attorney employed by the committee.

According to McClellan, the FBI and the grand jury, the alleged conspiracy was for Cheasty to get a job with the committee and then tip off Hoffa on what was coming up. McClellan said Hoffa offered Cheasty $18,000 and that the lawyer pretended to go along, but instead reported to the committee and the FBI. The FBI said the same.

Theater Patron, Acting On Hunch, Thwarts Robber

LOS ANGELES, March 19 (AP)—Manuel Moreno saw a look of fear in the eyes of the girl cashier so he overpowered the man in front of him at a downtown theater early today.

"I just twisted the fellow's arm and he submitted immediately," Moreno told police.

Booked on suspicion of robbery was Frank J. Kyborck of Los Angeles. Officers said cashier Margie Petrie, 18, had given him $41 after being handed a note which said: "Stickup. Be quiet."

The theater manager gave Moreno, 24, a waiter, a free ticket as a reward.

Warns Egypt Not To Block Aqaba Gulf

Israel Will Defend Rights With Force, Prime Minister Says

JERUSALEM, March 19 (AP)—The open threat of a new war emerged today from Israel's dismay at Gaza Strip and Aqaba Gulf developments since she turned over those battle-won territories to the United Nations.

Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion said Israel's army will march against Egypt again if President Nasser "tries to block our historic and legal passage into the Gulf of Aqaba." He voiced these views in an interview with a Newsweek magazine correspondent, Curtis G. Pepper, at Tel Aviv.

"It would be a black day on the moral conscience of the world if we had to move our army to defend our rights," he said. "We will do it only as a last resort. But if forced, we will do it and do it effectively."

Ben-Gurion implied he hoped for backing from President Eisenhower — "an honorable man, a friend and a general of armies" — on the basis of a letter Eisenhower dispatched to him during Israel's early March crisis over the final pullout orders. Israelis have generally regarded that letter as a pledge.

Eisenhower Doctrine Cited

If there is no forthright action by the United Nations, Ben-Gurion said, the Eisenhower Doctrine "could certainly be used to halt such a little man as Nasser."

"In his letter, the President stated we would have no regrets if we withdrew," Ben-Gurion said. "For me, this was more valid than any treaty between nations. That was the word not only of the President of the United States, but of an honorable man, a friend and a general of armies... we do not have cause for regret yet, but we definitely have cause to worry."

He said that is the reason he sent Foreign Minister Golda Meir on her latest mission to the United States—to make clear to Eisenhower and to U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold that Israel will insist on "freedom from terror on the Gaza border and freedom of passage through both the Suez Canal and the (Aqaba) Strait of Tiran."

Dag Flying To Cairo

The many facets of the crisis were emphasized in a series of developments today. Highlights:

1. Hammarskjold took off from New York on a two-postponed flight to Cairo to talk over "issues of immediate practical significance." He said he might also visit Jerusalem.

2. Egypt made plain in a memorandum to foreign diplomats in Cairo she intends to run the Suez Canal on her own terms when that artery of commerce is restored to normal operation. Chief among the six points of the memorandum was a declaration, disclosed previously by Egyptian authorities, that tolls must be paid in advance to the government's Suez Canal Authority in Egypt "or its nominees."

British Factory Strikes Loom

LONDON, March 19 (AP)—Union leaders tonight ordered 2½ million factory workers to join in a phased strike aimed at paralyzing Britain's manufacturing industries by April 6.

Seventy shipyards already are idle by a walkout of 200,000 men. Taken together, the two strikes could bring the British economy almost to a standstill in the worst industrial chaos since the general strike of 1926.

The order for factory strikes went out only a few hours before Prime Minister Harold Macmillan took off for talks with President Eisenhower in Bermuda on vital international questions.

Union bosses, fighting for a 10 percent wage rise for workers in the shipbuilding and engineering industries, ordered the phased strike to begin Saturday.

It was planned to start with a walkout in selected key plants and build up over a fortnight to a wholesale stoppage over the entire industry, which turns out 40 per cent of Britain's exports.

Plans for the strike were announced by 40 labor leaders after a London conference of the Confederation of Shipbuilding and Engineering unions.

The confederation is directing both the shipyard and factory strikes. It is demanding a hard cash offer from employers before agreeing to negotiate any settlement of the disputes.

Federal Reserve Study Says Booming Credit Can Help Unstabilize Economy

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—Easy-payment buying has added fuel to booms and, less often, has "aggravated" recessions, the staff of the Federal Reserve Board reported today.

The board sent to the President's Council of Economic Advisers a major contribution to the debate on stand-by consumer credit controls—a 5-volume, 1,619-page report on the economic impact of instalment buying.

It concluded that a credit crash like that of 1929-32, marked by debt defaults, home foreclosures and repossessions of autos and furniture, is less likely in the modern business structure.

"The possibility of an episode of drastic and spiraling liquidation should not be dismissed. Unusual losses and debtor adjustments occurred in the 1937-8 recession," it said.

The board's research team did not try to answer the key questions which underlay President Eisenhower's request for the study a year ago—whether Congress should enact stand-by power to control down payments and re-payment terms.

But the staff did conclude that instalment debt, now a 3½ billion dollar load, is among "the less stable kinds of credit." While not a primary cause of inflation or depression, it said, it can help unstabilize the whole economy.

The researchers found that credit buying has become increasingly "respectable." Forty-five families out of 100 are making time payments, including a surprising number with incomes over $7,500 a year.

Many families, it was indicated, use credit as a form of saving. They conserve their liquid assets while acquiring goods on a pay-as-you-use basis. Comparatively few debtors know the interest rate or carrying charges they pay.

Looking at five uptrend periods—1929-1934, 1946-50, 1952-53, and the spectacular credit binge of 1955—the staff learned that in each case "instalment credit buying contributed to a rate of sales of consumer durable goods that could not be sustained."

In four of the five cases, a lowering of down payments and a lengthening of the period of instalments stimulated buying. Then many consumers, stocked up on goods and debt, dropped out of the market and for a time concentrated on repaying.

The case in which this did not happen was the one which prompted Eisenhower's request of last year that Congress "consider" selective control authority—the 1955 auto and goods buying spree.

Oil Expert's Policy Plan Stirs Interest

NEW YORK, March 19 (AP)—An oil expert proposed today that the United States adopt a policy offering to help Arab countries but at the same time strengthening the West's bargaining position to resist any attempt at playing one cold war camp against another.

The proposed policy is outlined in the current issue of Foreign Affairs, published by the Council on Foreign Relations. An advance copy is reported creating interest in Washington.

The expert is Walter J. Levy of New York, consultant to international oil companies and to governments on oil matters. He warns that Europe will depend for many years to come on Middle East oil. Neither nuclear power nor any other source of energy can make an appreciable dent for decades.

The United States faces "a challenge to every single aim and aspect of our international oil policy" at a time when Arab nationalism is rising and the U.S.S.R. is trying to exploit it to the permanent damage to the West, Levy says.

He contends the United States must seek a program which:

Assures access to foreign oil, on an equitable basis, for itself and its allies in times of peace and times of turmoil.

Provides that the oil flow will be in accord with basic policy and strategic needs; and Offers encouragement to foreign operations by U.S. oil companies and seeks friendly collaboration with Western nations whose companies are likewise engaged.

The policy, he says, would be based on enlightened self-interest. It would avoid too much reliance on agreements with Arab nations in view of past experience, veer away from too heavy a dependence on the United Nations for solutions, and follow a firm line in asserting the interests of all concerned in the Middle East.

It would attempt to do these three things simultaneously:

1. Stress the common interests of the Middle East and West and thus try to lessen opportunities for Soviet intrigue.

2. Minimize Western vulnerability to interruptions of Middle East oil flow, thus enhancing the West's bargaining position.

3. Effectively support rights of private oil companies to encourage continued investment and development of Middle East oil.

Atomic Attack Demonstration Staged For Ike

EN ROUTE WITH EISENHOWER AT SEA, March 19 (AP)—The cruiser Canberra, with President Eisenhower on deck, came under simulated atomic attack today from planes striking with speeds of more than 700 miles an hour.

It was a demonstration of "atomic techniques" in bombing and rocket firing, the President's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, told newsmen.

Jet fighters and attack bombers—dispatched from the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt 200 miles away—streaked to targets within 2,000 yards of the Canberra which is taking the President to Bermuda for talks with British Prime Minister Macmillan.

The 20-minute demonstration, announced in advance, was the second display of U. S. naval might put on for the President as he continued his slow six-day cruise to the diplomatic rendezvous.

The President took the meandering sea voyage in the hope of getting rid of a cold, cough and ear ailment.

Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, White House physician on the Canberra, sent word to newsmen on accompanying destroyers that Eisenhower's ear inflammation is "entirely cleared up" and that he has "no symptoms now of a cold."

Earlier, the President's cough had been reported much improved.

The Canberra is due in Bermuda at 4 p. m. tomorrow and the sessions with Macmillan begin Thursday.

Minister Who Slew Killer "Feels Sorrow, Not Guilt"

NEW ALBANY, Ind., March 19 (AP)—"I can't say that this was the will of God . . . but I am sure I did the right thing."

With these words, the Rev. Robert W. Gingery, 37, today related in an interview how he shot to death a bank robber who minutes before had slain the Methodist minister's close friend, state police Sgt. Marvin Walts.

"I feel sorrow, but not guilt," he said.

Gingery said he believed the 5th Commandment—"Thou shalt not kill"—referred as much to intent as to action.

PRR's 1956 Profits Biggest Since 1945

PHILADELPHIA, March 19 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad, despite a month-long steel strike and increased costs, reported today that its profits last year—over 41½ million dollars—were the biggest since 1945.

PRR President James M. Symes told stockholders in the annual statement that America's largest railroad had net income of $41,545,435, compared with $41,183,533 in 1955—a gain of nearly 400 thousand dollars. This amounted to $3.15 per share, three cents more than in 1955.

Furthermore, Symes pointed out that the Pennsy, which operates 10,000 miles of tracks in 13 states and the District of Columbia, had net operating revenues of $991,107,116, just short of a billion dollars. This was 56 millions more than in 1955.

Bribe Charges Against Mayor Called Frameup

PORTLAND, Ore., March 19 (AP)—The Oregon Journal produced in a copy-righted news story today two affidavits which said a bribe accusation against Mayor Terry Schunk was a frameup.

The paper said one of its reporters witnessed the signing of a 33-page sworn statement by Clifford O. Bennett in which he said Raymond Clark of Portland proposed a plan last August in Great Falls, Mont., for "framing Terry Schunk to keep him from being elected mayor of the City of Portland."

Bennett earlier refused to testify under oath before a Senate subcommittee investigating labor racketeering.

The Journal also published a photographic copy of a notarized affidavit bearing the signature "Larry McCormick" which said McCormick was present at the Great Falls meeting. The affidavit said in part McCormick heard Clark "lay out a plan whereby he and others were going to frame Terry Schunk, at that time sheriff of Multnomah County, but who was running for mayor of Portland."

Clark's attorney, William J. Crawford, said they would have no comment until he had a chance to study the "alleged affidavit."

Clark confirmed the attorney's decision.

McCormick identified himself as a Spokane, Wash., used car dealer. A car lot attendant at the address McCormick gave said he had been gone about 10 days and no longer had automobiles on the lot.

Woman Dies In Crash On Martin's Mt.

An 83-year-old Baltimore woman was killed instantly yesterday in an automobile-tractor trailer crash on Martin's Mountain.

The woman, Mrs. Dora Ella Weber, of 5240 York Road, Baltimore, was traveling on U. S. Route 40 from Baltimore to Cumberland to attend the funeral yesterday of Mrs. Elizabeth Car-scaden, 211 South Allegany Street, who died Sunday at her home.

State Police Trooper R. D. Wolford, who investigated, said Mrs. Weber was riding in her son's automobile. Her son, Harry Edward Weber, was not injured in the crash.

According to Trooper Wolford the Weber vehicle was following a tractor trailer west on the highway when the rig attempted to make a right hand turn. The Weber vehicle smashed into the rear of the tractor-trailer.

Driver of the rig was Lloyd Bowman. He was working on the State Roads project on Martin's Mountain, and was turning into the project area when the mishap occurred, according to Trooper Wolford.

Mrs. Weber's body was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital. Her son was examined at the institution.

Trooper Wolford said Weber's 1939 car was demolished, while the rig was not damaged.

Mr. Weber was questioned yesterday in the States' Attorney's office and signed a statement on the mishap before being released in the custody of his nephew, James L. Weber.

The driver of the tractor-trailer rig will be questioned today, County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya said. No charges have been made by authorities pending outcome of the investigation.

The body of Mrs. Weber is at the Scarpelli Funeral Home here and will be sent to the Jenkins Funeral Home in Baltimore today where funeral services will be completed.

The first commercial ice plant in the United States was operated in Jefferson, Tex., about 1874.

Board To Get Request For School Funds

The annual budget of the Allegany County public schools will be submitted to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners on Friday, March 29.

Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools, told the commissioners yesterday the budget would be ready by that time after asking for an extension of the period for submitting budgets by various county departments.

The school budget is the largest one in the county's annual tax levy.

William H. Johnson, district forester, submitted the budget of the State Department of Forests and Parks for the work done at county expense.

The budget totaled $6,367.02 and will provide for the salary of a forest guard, equipment for fire prevention, transportation to forest fires, tools and similar items needed in battling forest fires.

L. E. Crabtree appeared before the board to ask that holes in a county road in the Oldtown area be repaired. The roadway is used by a school bus. J. Walker Chapman, county road supervisor, said he would look into the situation.

Jesse L. Lease notified the board that water is collecting on his driveway after running off the Brant Road. The matter was referred to Chapman.

Chapman informed the board that a dead cow was found along the old Williams Road at the foot of Polish Mountain. The area has no homes and Chapman said he has contacted the Health Department for disposal of the carcass.

Litter bags will be placed in county cars and trucks as part of the "Keep Maryland Beautiful" program, Chapman said. The State Roads Commission will furnish the litter bags for county vehicles.

Gymnasium Seat Bids Received

The James T. Vernay and Sons Company of Baltimore Monday submitted the apparent low bid of $7,875 for furnishing and installing the gymnasium bleachers in the new Bruce High School at Westernport.

Four other bids were opened by Assistant Superintendent of Schools Richard T. Rizer and they were within $170 of each other.

They included Baltimore Stationery Company, Baltimore, $8,315; Crichton Engineering Company, Charleston, W. Va., $8,628; Flowers School Equipment Company, Richmond, Va., $8,684; and Walcott-Taylor Company, Washington, D. C., $8,685.

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster and Mr. Rizer agreed after the bids were opened and tabulated that they would like to see some installations of the various bidders before awarding the contract.

The various firms offered to have the bleachers installed sometime between 30 and 60 days after the drawings are approved.

Liquor Board To Decide On Remonstrance

The Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners heard a remonstrance to issuance of a beer, wine and liquor permit for premises at 442 Columbia Street to Mary E. Reed.

After taking testimony in the case the board announced it would make a decision after reading the transcript.

Mrs. Reed has a license for premises on North Centre Street known as the Acorn Cafe and had filed an application for a permit for the new premises. A grocery store and meat market is in the building on Columbia Street.

The Acorn Cafe has been operated by the Reed family for 16 years. Edward R. Willison, an inspector for the board, testified that there have never been any complaints against Acorn Cafe.

John M. Robb, attorney for a group of Columbia Street residents who filed the remonstrance, told the board that the application was invalid as the place selected by Mrs. Reed was changed after the necessary signatures were obtained on the form. Mrs. Reed said that two locations had been considered, the one at 442 Columbia Street and another at the intersection of Columbia and Valley streets.

Mrs. Reed said that after the premises had been selected at 442 Columbia the signers were contacted and told of the change. One signer was in Florida and could not be located, she added.

Robb also said the zoning law of Cumberland has the neighborhood as a Class B Residential section and for that reason no business could be located there.

Harold E. Naughton, attorney for Mrs. Reed, said the city would issue a permit at the location.

The remonstrance cited the fact the Columbia Street School is nearby, there are several other similar places of business in the general neighborhood and the narrowness of the street poses a traffic hazard.

Library Workshop In Session Here

A library workshop for junior-high schools is being conducted through Friday in the Allegany County Board of Education Building.

Conducting the workshop is Miss Mae Graham, Baltimore, high school library consultant for the State Department of Education. Assisting are Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of schools, and Lewyn C. Davis, supervisor of junior high schools.

Participating are Mrs. Evelyn Bright, Allegany; Mrs. Naomi Bennett, and Miss D. Gertrude Ranck, Fort Hill; Miss Mabel L. Higgins, Beall; Mrs. Nora C. Troxell, Valley.

Mrs. Nellie Hanna McCoy, Bruce; Mrs. Mary Martirano, Cresaptown; Miss Mary Hanson, Beall seventh grade; Miss Mary T. Witte, Mt. Savage, Miss Kathleen Cooper, Carver, and Miss Elinor A. Doeri, Flintstone.

An exhibit of 800 books has been set up for the librarians.

Activities Set By Group In Cresaptown

The executive committee of the Cresaptown Community Council presented plans for activities of the group at a recent meeting. Mrs. Arlie Borror gave the report.

A report of the auditing committee was given by Lester Sherman. Charles Wendt gave a report for the teen-age advisory committee. He listed chaperones for the Friday night dances of the teen-age group at the Cresaptown Fire Hall.

Named to the recreation committee for the summer program were Charles Smith, chairman; Mrs. Helen Lowendick and Lester Sherman. The committee will work out details on types of games, hours of supervised recreation, equipment needs and selection of the playground supervisor. Plans will be presented to Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of public schools, for approval.

The outdoor fun festival committee selected includes Joseph Wenrich, chairman; John Yoder, assistant chairman; Mrs. Walter Richardson, Gilbert Keister, Dale Broadwater, Mrs. Lester McGill and Mrs. Arlie Borror.

Miss Myra Nefflen, principal of Cresaptown School, thanked the group for the additional blacktopped area and for the basketball courts installed by the council.

The council will provide paint and equipment to be used by Boy Scout Troop 9 in redecorating the war memorial in the community in preparation for the Memorial Day services. The Scouts will donate a new American flag.

The council will meet at the school on May 17.

Area School Will Be Sold

Bids are being asked by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for the sale of the old Mt. Savage School building which has been vacant for some years.

There is a provision in the deed which requires that the county commissioners, prior to accepting the highest bid submitted, first offer the property to the Consolidation Coal Company at the highest price offered. The deed was drawn up many years ago with this provision.

Bids will be opened April 9 at 10:30 a. m. at the Court House.

J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, reported to the board that the C&A Gas Company is going to lay 2,569 feet of new pipe of six-inch size in the Wood-lawn Avenue, Long Avenue, Gramlich Road, and Cash Valley Road area and wants a permit.

The county requires a permit from utilities whenever a county road is excavated for projects. Chapman told the board that a $500 bond should be set for the C&A firm to insure replacement of any roadway dug up in the project.

Letters were received from Mrs. Sarah E. Carter, secretary of the Mt. Savage Homemakers Club, and A. J. Rost of the Mt. Savage Refractories Company concerning a dump along a road near the community.

The club wants the dump leveled and signs posted against dumping of trash at the location. Rost said the dump is located on the refractories property and is unsightly. He agreed that it should be leveled and discontinued. The Health Department will be notified to that effect, the board said.

Public Schools Have Half-Day Session

Public school children of Allegany County had a half-holiday Monday in order that their teachers and principals might have time for professional use.

During the past two years the Board of Education has agreed to close the schools of the county for five afternoons during the school year.

The final half-day session this year will be on May 13.

Ridgeley Woman Hurt In Fall At Home

Federation Head Backs 3 Projects

Mrs. R. I. C. Prout, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, in accepting the appointment as chairman of Women's Activities for National Sunday School Week, stressed the importance of early religious training.

Mrs. Prout also is calling on members of the federation to continue support "of highway safety and beauty in outdoor areas," and "urges statehood for Alaska."

Speaking of National Sunday School Week, April 8 through 14, Mrs. Prout said, "Today we live in two worlds. In one we have freedom and God, in the other, slavery and atheism. Godless communism is constantly trying to bring young people into its fold. It behooves the women of the United States, as mothers and homemakers, to give all children the opportunity to attend Sunday school." She urges parents to encourage attendance, organize car pools, teach and help sponsor the observance in their communities.

Discussing the opportunity to make a united effort to keep the new federal highway safe and beautiful, clubs are urged to continue in the effort to preserve the natural beauties of the landscape and keep the roadways free of litter and disfiguring structures, and to support strict controls of roadside development through zoning regulations.

Endorsing resolutions that Alaska be granted statehood, Mrs. Prout points out that Alaska, as a territory, has seemingly met the requirements necessary for statehood; the strategic geographical location is vital to the security of the United States as a natural and logical defense barrier between the United States and communist Russia; as a state rather than a territory the

Women's Group Sponsors 2-Day Community Retreat

Mrs. Louise Eggleston, Norfolk, Va., originator and leader of World Literacy Prayer group, will conduct a two day "Community Retreat" here March 29, 30. Originally invited here by a group attending Camp Farthest Out, the retreat is being sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service of Trinity Methodist Church and Grace Methodist Church. Rev. and Mrs. Louis Chastain and their daughter, from Trinity; Rev. and Mrs. Adam Grim, Grace; Mrs. Ethel Fair, Mrs. Louise Nicklin, Mrs. Mamie Radcliff, Centre Street; and Mrs. Helen Nave, Ridgeley Methodist Church, formed the group at "C. F. O." who invited Mrs. Eggleston here.

Widely known prayer group leader, lecturer, author, and leader of Camps Farthest Out, Mrs. Eggleston has a two-fold purpose, to inspire spiritual growth through an increased knowledge of prayer, and to help further Koinonia's efforts for the underprivileged of the world.

Mrs. Eggleston is head of the Spiritual Life Work in Virginia, and has helped establish spiritual life groups throughout the United States. She is a past president of the World Literacy Movement; a missionary project headed by Dr. Frank Laubach. She is acting president of Koinonia Foundation; in 1954, the degree of doctor of literature was conferred upon her by Athens College, Athens, Ala., in recognition of her work for the World Literacy Committee. At the request of President Eisenhower, she was invited to attend the Congress of Prayer in Washington, and as a result of her visit, was sent to foreign countries to work with prayer groups. March 29, two services will be held at Trinity church, one at 2 p. m., and the other at 7:30. All it takes is a GAS dryer...and a Penny-a-Load!

Newlyweds, women with small children and women who have their children raised and married, all want an automatic GAS clothes dryer. Because then they can get out and enjoy themselves more often. No more hanging lines, or carrying heavy baskets of wet wash.

Why a GAS Dryer? Because ONLY a GAS dryer costs less to install... operate... maintain! Yes, you can operate your GAS dryer for only a penny's worth of GAS per load; that's much less than the other fuel. Installation, too, costs far less because only a simple gas connection is needed. Gas burners last a lifetime; you don't have expensive service charges. Save time, save money... GAS DOES IT BETTER FOR LESS.

Get yourself a GAS dryer right away! See your GAS Appliance Dealer!

Without a GAS dryer, you have the drudgery of climbing steps with heavy wet wash, straining lines, hanging clothes, and taking them down again.

With a GAS dryer, all you do is transfer clothes from your washer to your automatic GAS dryer, put a few steps away. Set the dial and forget it.

Monroney Says Md. Group Lobbying For D.C. Airport

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—Airlines pilot Paul Means of Wilmington Heights, Va. He said the Senate Commerce Subcommittee on Aviation today accused Maryland interests of lobbying to have Washington's second commercial airport located in Maryland.

Monroney also listed as untrue a contention by Sen. Butler (R-Md.) that a technician for the Civil Aeronautics Administration had lobbied recently for the Burke, Va. site for the proposed port.

Monroney expressed his views in a letter to Civil Aeronautics Administrator James T. Pyle.

The letter said that although there has been considerable lobbying by Maryland interests to have the second airport located in Maryland, "it is my humble opinion that your experts made a wise choice in deciding on a location in Virginia."

A long-time advocate of the Burke site, Monroney said he hopes the CAA will soon receive money to carry out the 1950 law which directs construction of a second airport "at a location of your (the CAA's) choosing."

Meanwhile, a committee of National Airport employees today visited members of Congress to accentuate their support for the Burke site.

The group was headed by Capital

Theater Blaze Set By Youth

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., March 19 (AP)—A 21-year-old youth was charged with arson today after police said he admitted starting a fire at the old State Theater where about 100 persons were attending a church revival Sunday night.

Three firemen were slightly hurt in rescuing several families from apartments above the theater. All in the theater escaped without injury. The fire caused about $35,000 damage.

Police Chief Kenneth Cushman said Arthur W. Kief of Martinsburg admitted setting the blaze because "he experienced a thrill out of seeing a fire."

The chief said Kief made the admission after extensive questioning by police and fire department arson investigators. He also told police he had started a fire in the basement of the same building last Thursday but put it out, Cushman added.

When fire and smoke blocked the main stairway of the three-story building five women, including 90-year-old Mrs. C. C. West-rater, had to climb down a 16-foot ladder and then were helped down another ladder to the ground.

Cushman said Kief would be held for a preliminary hearing on the arson charge. The hearing was not scheduled immediately.

THEIR VERY OWN ACTUAL BANK — Kindergartners at Sickman school in the Pittsburgh suburb of Whitehall line up to sock away their pennies in their very own bank. The branch is supervised by a Federal Savings & Loan association official and is located in the school building. The youngsters stash away as much as $2,000 a month.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 19 (INS)—What can leaders achieve, face to face, that escapes solution when the problem is tackled via transoceanic telephone and cable, the exchange of diplomatic notes, or by the meetings of their appointed ambassadors?

There will be ample opportunity to answer that one in Bermuda during the Eisenhower-Macmillan meeting.

It is hard to believe that this confrontation, in the wake of so many grave and earnest differences of opinion, will magically bring about the rapport and accord that was true of the past. Indeed, the principal purpose of meeting would appear to be to show Soviet Russia and the world in general that two old friends can differ on particulars but continue to maintain the intrinsic goal of preserving the dignity of mankind everywhere.

This, it seems likely, is a show-case meeting. The items on the agenda have been thoroughly probed for weeks and in some cases for years. Minds have been made up separately long since, in accordance with unbending national policy.

We are not going to recognize Red China or begin trading with it nor is Britain going to withdraw its recognition or do other than try to increase the trade she so direly needs. Britain most certainly will cut the size and cost of its contribution to NATO unless we undertake to underwrite a portion of the heavy cost of such membership. Britain is not going to concede that her invasion of Egypt was, as we assay such acts, a cynical violation of the United Nations Charter which nations of Britain's integrity are morally obliged to respect.

There are other basic differences which no amount of good feeling at the mid-ocean club's conference room, its banquet hall, or its splendid golf course will dissolve. These differences have been dealt with previously in stacks of correspondence, hours of talks and exchange of views on the foreign minister level, probably many informal expressions at top level. There is not even a dim chance of a magic change of heart on either side, any more than the "summit conference" at Geneva basically altered the sleepless contest between proponents of freedom and of slavery.

In keeping with what one feels is the show-window aspect, certain goods may be displayed. It will not be surprising if the President chooses the occasion to announce that the two nations have resumed their war-time cooperation in the field of atomic energy.

The British scientific contribution to the production of the atomic bomb was considerable. Later, we slammed the door in their faces, and the general public may have come to associate the British effort with the perfidy of Drs. Klaus Fuchs and Bruno Pontecorvo, naturalized Britons who gave their secrets to the Soviet Union. We had some defectives of our own. The new Anglo-American atomic accord, if it comes, would see us helping them in the matter of such things as the know-how which makes the Nautilus run so well, and their helping us in the field of their enviable land power-reactor development—which, incidentally, the Japanese government is buying in preference to our own.

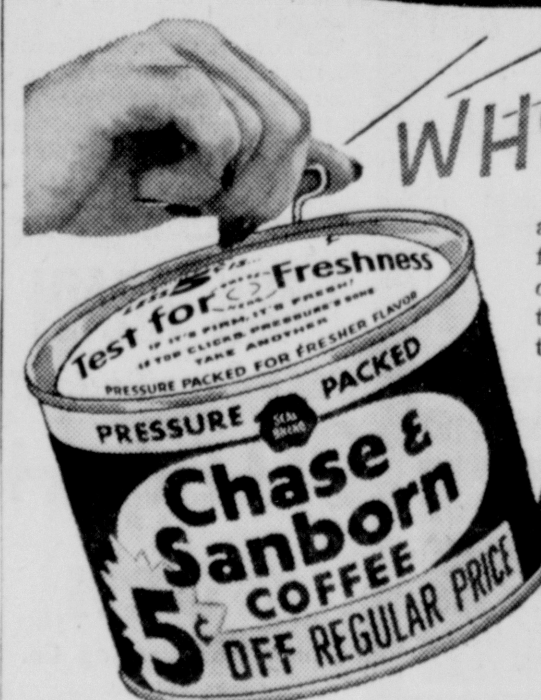

The ultimate communicate is sure to be happily phrased. It will state, but not in so many words, that the U. S. forgives ever diminishing pond that divides them. Beyond that, one supposes we shall go on our somewhat separate ways, "divided by a common language," intent on the survival of ourselves and the things that matter to the civilized mind.

Effective Use Of Womanpower

The report of the National Manpower Council, in a survey designed to bring about more effective use of womanpower in the national interest, is in itself rather conclusive testimony that women already are making a tremendous contribution.

Among other disclosures was the finding that, in addition to her role as wife and homemaker, the American woman currently is earning a fifth of the nation's annual wage and salary income while serving more than a fourth of the total man hours worked. Women are expected to provide at least half of the 10 million persons that will be added to the national labor force during the decade ending with 1965. Women in middle and later life are regarded as the main source of this additional labor supply.

Women could not be counted on so heavily were it not that marriage, with its homemaking and family rearing, is becoming less of a bar to women working. Population studies show that only seven per cent of women never marry.

Among married women, 3 in every 10 are found to have jobs and 2 in every 5 mothers who work still have school-age children to care for.

President Eisenhower is urged in the report to have the Labor Department survey the maximum potential emergency use of womanpower and to have the Defense Department supply data on women in uniform. Employers and unions are called upon to take steps to assure women equality of opportunity and of rewards. But women have reached their present recognition in the working world to a great extent by their own initiative. Whatever the country does to open the doors ahead of them now will help, but they'll be knocking on them anyway—and not with hat in hand.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The China Trade

There used to be a Commercial Attache in China, Julian Arnold, who tried hard to push American products. He tried to get the Chinese to like raisins, he also tried to introduce prunes, hoping thereby to increase the use of California fruits. If 400,000,000 Chinese each ate one prune a day, it would mean that California would sell 400,000,000 more prunes every day. The arithmetic was all right, but the Chinese did not take to prunes.

Now we are back to the question of the China market which has grown to 600,000,000 human beings who live on a low standard of living. The British, Japanese and the Germans would like to do more business in that market. The Japanese, particularly, are bound to find a way to barter manufactured goods for foodstuffs, especially the soy bean which is a staple of the Japanese cuisine and which grows plentifully in Manchuria and areas of North China.

China can get from Japan, Poland and Czechoslovakia on better terms anything that the British can sell. In fact, textiles which used to be a principal item of British trade, are being manufactured on the China mainland and in Japan and Poland.

The China market can absorb strategic goods, war materials, and it makes no sense to sell that to Red China.

Thus far, the United States has avoided trade with Red China, except the payment of ransom for American citizens held in that country. The British have been more lenient and have tried to make a killing out of the port of Hongkong while the going was good. Hongkong prospered for a period but the sale of strategic materials is like gun-running. It is only worth while when conditions are satisfactory and all transactions have to be for cash or are guaranteed by Chinese compradors, which narrows the market.

At the present time 15 nations are engaged in the ban of trade with Red China, but there is considerable difference of opinion and possibly smuggling of European goods into China. I recall that after World War I, the great Powers had a treaty not to sell arms to China, but I personally witnessed such sales out of embassies in Peking.

Henry Ford II, whose company could sell cars and tractors to Red China, takes the position that the United States needs to be realistic about trade with Red China and realism means that if we give aid to Communist Poland, why not do business with Communist China? The answer could be that we should not give aid to Poland or Yugoslavia or any Communist country, because again the question arises as to who will pay for the goods sold, the customer or the American taxpayer. If it is to be the American taxpayer, he ought to have some choice in the matter. If it is his money that is to subsidize an American manufacturer or trader, he ought to have a voice as to who the customer is to be.

There is, however, this to justify Ford's position. The United States subsidizes West Germany; West Germany's car manufacturers sell to Red China on wonderful terms. If our money is to subsidize our competitors, why not keep the business to home? On the other hand, the principal American companies often have subsidiaries in foreign countries which operate indigenous companies where they may be. Such companies, as non-American businesses, can operate according to the policies of the countries where they are domiciled. It gives them an out if necessary.

Red China's major problem is over-population and the inability to find work enough in an essentially agricultural country. Industry is still primitive and backward, despite heroic efforts to industrialize the country. The surplus population in the old days engaged in banditry until absorbed in someone's army. Now that the population has increased to the phenomenal figure of 600,000,000, the Red Chinese government is concerned because it cannot feed such a population nor find work for it. The logical answer is complete modern industrialization, but for that China lacks capital, know-how and suffers from a tendency to start everything at once, which means that there will be some runs in the litter.

The present pressures to get the United States and other nations to trade with Red China recognize that industrialization is the logical conclusion for Red China's problems, but who will pay for it and with what?

Last Chance To Save The Western Alliance?

By Joseph Alsop

LONDON:

The Bermuda meeting between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan looks like just about the last chance to rebuild the crumbling foundations of the Western Alliance. "What will they do about Gaza?" everyone will no doubt be asking. But that will not be the real question.

For this Bermuda meeting is not an international gathering of the common sort, at which statesmen gather in the sun, wrestle briefly with the crisis of the moment, effusively assure one another of their mutual affection, and part again after issuing a smooth and empty communique. Or rather, if Bermuda turns out to be this sort of rally, it will be remembered as the last chance that was missed.

What has to be done not to miss the chance? The answer is simple. Detailed and practical agreements must be reached concerning the long-term policies of America and Britain in certain critical areas. Of these areas, the Middle East is now immeasurably the most important. But NATO is another policy area made urgent by Britain's planned reduction of her troop strength in Germany. And there are one or two more.

And why will the last chance probably be lost, if detailed, long-term approaches to these knotty and complex problems are not agreed upon at Bermuda? Again the answer is relatively simple. The ancient Anglo-American partnership has already fallen upon evil days, that another failure to reach real agreement will simply impose too heavy a strain.

Of course there will be no open, rapid rupture, if Bermuda merely ends in another meaningless and amiable statement by the two chief conferees. But if this is the only result of Bermuda, the festering feelings of the British will grow still more poisonous. The ugly stories that are everywhere repeated here will be repeated and believed still more widely. And thus the already marked drift away from the old partnership will be accelerated to the point where it can hardly be halted and reversed.

That is the danger one finds beneath London's smiling and outwardly prosperous surface. In part, feelings fester here because the terrible failure at Suez marked an equally terrible turning point in the thinking of many intelligent and courageous English people. Against heavy odds, for nearly twelve years after the second world war's end, they carried on the struggle to maintain Britain's role as a great world power. But after the Suez failure, they have just about abandoned hope. "We've been a great power for a very long time," one of them told me. "But now we know we aren't a great power any longer, and we must find a new course."

By no means all of those who have reached this bitter conclusion have also turned against the Anglo-American partnership. But there are some, even of the best, who have turned against it—some whose names, if they could be publicly used, would send a thrill of horror down the spines of those in Washington who still care about the future of the Western Alliance. One such, a much respected senior leader with close American connections, a man who has always been a strong advocate of the old partnership and one who bitterly criticized

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

If you're still teething on your foreign intrigue you've probably been wondering what fait accompli translates for.

Well I'll tell you. When I run against a prescription like that I rush it to the dark end of the drugstore.

For fifty years I've had a big fat dictionary at my right elbow. It's my other elbow that's uneducated.

Fait accompli is a diplomatic word meaning you can turn in your lynch key for the hoss barracks. The pony is back on the carousel.

Fait accompli masticates into English as phooey, kaput, cold turkey, dead duck and the boat sailed Friday.

It means kitty-bar-the-door they're coming in the window. The suet is in the fire and salt won't change the flavor.

The accent is on the shrug and you raise your eyebrows to let the sneer go by.

Fait accompli is an excellent word for diplomats whose portfolios are saddle-bags on an extinct Thesaurus. It's a bird on the wing in a museum of natural history. It's the egg in the electric fan. It's Jack Horner's shopping thumb. I'm glad you asked me. (Distributed by INS)

Angina Pectoris And The Blood Sugar Level

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Some individuals with angina pectoris have a normal heart but develop chest pain whenever their blood sugar level is low (hypoglycemia). These persons respond better to a lump of sugar or a piece of candy than to a nitroglycerine tablet.

Hypoglycemia is not a common cause of angina. It is suspected when chest pain develops several hours after eating, when the amount of sugar in the blood has run low. Chest pain may be associated with other uncomfortable symptoms such as sweating, palpitation, pallor, anxiety, and increased pulse rate.

The heart needs sugar, or energy, and if it does not receive this nourishment the organs complain in the form of pain. Hypoglycemia is detected by a simple blood test and anyone with a questionable angina should have this done.

Angina pectoris in its usual form is more frequent in the opposite condition—diabetes mellitus. But the high blood sugar level in this disease is not the cause of chest pain.

Diabetes is associated with hardening of the arteries, which develops earlier and in more severe form in diabetics than in men and women of a comparable age who do not have diabetes. Keeping diabetes under control with diet and insulin delays the hardening process. In this respect, the cause of angina pectoris and coronary thrombosis in the diabetic is the same as in the nondiabetic.

In coronary disease, the arteries are narrower than normal. They are wide enough to deliver nourishment to the heart muscle when the old ticker is beating at a normal rate. But when it speeds up due to exertion or excitement the needs of the pumping apparatus cannot be met. Resting for a few minutes or using a nitroglycerin tablet brings relief.

The pain of angina is located beneath the breastbone over an area covered roughly by the necktie. The sensation is described as a feeling of pressure, burning, or constriction. Pain radiates into the neck and down the left arm or both arms. It develops sooner in cold weather and when walking up an incline or against a strong wind.

Nitroglycerine is the time-honored remedy; it is harmless and nonhabit forming. But when the medication must be used many times a day, the victim should take stock of his activities because he is doing too much. He may need a rest or he should stop walking and use a bus or taxi more often. Long acting vasodilators may help and, in recent years, several operations have been devised to correct the condition.

A reader sent a funny cartoon from an unidentified paper. It shows a customer at a Moscow, U.S.S.R., newsstand demanding angrily, "Whaddya mean, ya don't sell the Daily Capitalist?"

Israel Was Double-Crossed On Plan To Withdraw From Gaza And Aqaba

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — If you know the full inside story of the hectic negotiations by which Israel agreed to withdraw from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba, you can't escape the conclusion that this little country has been given one of the biggest double-crosses of modern diplomacy.

This may seem an extreme statement but here is the hitherto unpublished record:

Around the middle of last month the Eisenhower Administration was worried sick over the position in which it found itself regarding the pending UN vote for sanctions against Israel. It was so worried that the first thing Secretary Dulles did when Premier Guy Mollet of France arrived in Washington was to ask his help solving the UN-Israeli impasse.

"If there ever was a time when the United States needs the good offices of France it's now," Dulles said in effect. During the first three hours of the French-American meetings this was about all the State Department people talked about. Dulles couldn't get Israel and the UN off his mind.

The reason was easy to understand. The Eisenhower Administration by this time had got itself into a position where it was damned by the Arab-Asian bloc if it didn't vote for sanctions, and damned by a majority of Congress plus powerful political forces if it did.

What it needed was a compromise.

The West German government had politely but firmly notified Dulles that Germany would not go along with sanctions. Germany's commitment to Israel, made as a result of Hitler's massacre of 6,000,000 Jews, was a moral one, West Germany told the State Department. Chancellor Adenauer feels the obligation deeply, Dulles was told, therefore the German reparations payments to Israel would continue.

Dulles also knew that France, plus probably Australia, New Zealand, Canada and England would not go along with sanctions. Furthermore, both Senator Lyndon Johnston, the Democratic leader, and Senator William Knowland, the GOP leader, had publicly served notice on the Administration that Congress would probably not agree to sanctions.

Finally, the Administration was desperately anxious to get the Eisenhower Near East Doctrine okayed by the Senate. Every day of delay hurt the President's prestige both at home and abroad. And it became apparent that Senate leaders were not going to push a vote on the Eisenhower Doctrine until they knew whether sanctions were going to be voted against Israel.

All this was why Dulles literally begged Premier Mollet to help him out of the Near East dilemma. Dulles Gives O. K.

In the negotiations which followed, the French suggested that instead of getting a flat guarantee from the UN or Egypt that the Egyptian army would not go back into the Gaza Strip, Israel might base its withdrawal on a series of assumptions which would be approved in advance by the United States and France.

Israel had been adamant that the thin finger of land extending 26 miles up along the Palestinian coast should not once again become a military base for raids into Israel. It was pointed out that Gaza had never been a part of Egypt, had always been a part of Palestine, and that its unnatural borders resulted from the fact that the Israeli Army was halted there by Britain and the United States when the Israelis pushed Egypt out of Palestine in the war of independence in 1948.

So many murderous raids have been conducted from this little finger of land by Egyptian Fedayeen that no Israeli government could long remain in power if it permitted the Egyptian Army to re-enter.

As a result of the French suggestion, however, a series of "assumptions" were drawn up by Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir. One "assumption" was that the civil and military administration of the Gaza Strip "will be exclusively by the UN." Another assumption was that the UN administration would continue until "there is a peace settlement."

These and other assumptions were studied carefully in writing and agreed to by John Foster Dulles. He made six or eight changes in the wording. These Israel accepted.

It was also agreed that after Mrs. Meir made her UN speech outlining these assumptions, U. S. Ambassador Lodge should speak and describe the assumptions as "reasonable."

Dulles In Reverse When Lodge spoke, however, he changed the signals. Instead of calling the assumptions "reasonable" as agreed, he called them "not unreasonable." He also went out of his way to emphasize that Egypt could exercise control over Gaza.

This was what made the Israeli government almost reverse itself and not get out of Gaza after all. An emergency meeting of the Israeli Cabinet debated a reversal. They were flabbergasted that the United States should have agreed to the terms of withdrawal, read over the terms of withdrawal, and then reneged on them. A meeting between the Israeli chief of staff, General Moshe Dayan, and UN Commander E. M. Burns was abruptly canceled.

Undoubtedly the Cabinet would have reversed its foreign minister's decision in Washington had not John Foster Dulles pulled a diplomatic rabbit out of his hat. He drafted a personal letter to Premier Ben-Gurion, which President Eisenhower cabled to Jerusalem.

The President said what Ambassador Lodge was supposed to say but didn't. He said that the Israel "assumptions" were "reasonable." He went further and told Ben-Gurion he hoped they would "not be in vain."

This reassured the Cabinet. Israeli troops were pulled out of Gaza and Aqaba.

One day after the withdrawal, however, when it was too late for Israel to backtrack, Secretary Dulles told his press conference that President Eisenhower's letter did not mean what the Israelis thought it meant, that he did not endorse all of Mrs. Meir's assumptions.

That's why the Israelis feel they got the biggest double-cross in recent diplomat history. That's also why Premier Guy Mollet recently remarked:

"This is not the first time France has found herself completely alone in championing a struggling young democracy."

The democracy that France championed in 1976 was the chief dealer of the double-cross to the Democracy which France is defending today.

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

Do you know a fellow who is married to a left-handed woman? How is he doing? When the left side of the brain is more powerful than the right, the result is a right-handed person. When the right side is more powerful, that makes a left-hander. Left-handed persons are more intelligent than right-handed ones. So, left-handed wives are usually the dominant figures in their households. The man who is married to a southpaw seldom gets the last word unless it is to say, "Yes, dear."

DELINQUENTS

The juvenile delinquent situation, particularly as it concerns holdups by teenagers, is repeatedly referred to as if it were a recent development. Nothing to that assumption. Teenagers have been staging holdups in this country for many years. When Jesse James held up the Clay County Savings Bank in Missouri and robbed it of $70,000, he was only 19.

TRIPLETS

Are you, by any chance, an expectant papa. How are you fixed for names for the anticipated arrivals? Suppose they are triplets? In Seattle there are triplets named Pamela, Penelope and Patricia. In Corona, Calif., there were triplets named Faith, Hope and Charity. I don't know of any male triplets. I heard of a trio in Texas named Tom, Dick and Harry but was unable to confirm the report.

ASIDES

In most states a boy legally reaches his majority at the age of 21. However, according to Nature, a boy becomes a man at the age of 15. . . . The position of bartender is rated as a "dangerous" occupation by life insurance companies. . . . The zipper, invented in 1879, was so shrewdly and strongly opposed by button manufacturers that it didn't get on the market for 30 years.

This is the only group which actively and financially supports the high school band and if it discontinues this support it will handicap the high school band's activities greatly.

The development of atomic-powered electric plants is the latest stage in bringing plentiful electricity to America. You can be sure that electric company skills and experience, acquired in 75 years of service, are being applied to this great new job.

Bradley Shatters NIT Record, Routs Xavier, 116-81

Peoria Quint Sets Garden Scoring Mark

Ohioans Outpointed 72-29 In 2nd Half; Temple Wins, 77-66

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
NEW YORK, March 19 (AP)—Bradley's second-seeded Braves piled up the biggest score ever made in college basketball in Madison Square Garden and the 20-year history of the National Invitation Tournament tonight by beating Xavier of Ohio 116-81 and Temple again made Dayton the NIT "bridesmaid" by winning 77-66.

Tonight's winners will meet in the second of Thursday's semifinals. The other game will bring together St. Bonaventure and Memphis State, winners last night over top-seeded Seattle and Manhattan, respectively.

The first game was a strange affair in that Bradley, 21 points down after about 12 minutes of play, played an all-court press to grind the polish off Xavier's smooth attack and then went on to create a record rout by scoring 72 points in the second half. The 116 points wiped out the old NIT record of 110 made by St. Louis against Connecticut in 1955.

10,543 See Ovis Win
The second contest, played before a Garden crowd of 10,543 was a somewhat tight affair which matched the individual play of Temple's Guy Rodgers against the ruggedness of the Dayton team, which had reached the NIT finals four times without ever winning.

It was Rodgers, who had scored 20 points in the first half, turned playmaker that Temple pulled away to win easily over a disorganized opponent.

Rodgers scored six more points in the second half while Jay Norman and Mel Brodsky carried the scoring burden. Norman finished with 23 points.

Xavier Collapses
For the first 12 minutes, Xavier looked unbeatable and threatened to make the game a rout. Then, with the benching of center Frank Tartaron after his fourth personal foul, the Musketeers lost their poise and skill and the affair became lopsided in the other direction.

Bradley, a mere eight points down at half time, caught up in a couple of minutes and outscored Xavier 42-6 in the first 8½ minutes of play in the second half. That gave the Braves a 28 point lead, 86-58 and Xavier was beaten. Bradley's final second half margin was 72-29.

Orioles Rally, Beat Cleveland

Five Runs In 8th Sew Up Game, 8-4

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz., March 19 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles assembled a five-run rally in the eighth inning today to win an 8-4 exhibition game over the Cleveland Indians.

Third baseman Brooks Robinson produced the early fireworks with a triple and a homer. But the tying and winning runs in the eighth came on scratch singles by rightfielder Joe Van Durham and Carl Powis, a pinch hitter.

Billy Loes was credited with the victory after holding Cleveland to two hits in three innings. Right fielder Dave Pope accounted for a third of Cleveland's six hits with a triple and a single that brought in two Indian tallies.

Jake LaMotta Is Guilty, Sentenced To Hard Labor

Given Six Months In Jail On Charges Of Prostitution

MIAMI, Fla., March 19 (INS)—Former middleweight boxing champion Jake LaMotta was found guilty tonight on two of four counts of prostitution and was sentenced to six months at hard labor in the Dade County jail at Miami.

A jury of six men returned the verdict shortly before 8 p. m. EST. LaMotta also was fined $500. Each of the four prostitution counts carries a maximum penalty of six months in jail and a $500 fine. But because of a legal technicality, he only could be sentenced on one of the counts.

He was found guilty of "keeping, maintaining or operating a place for the purpose of lewdness or assignation and aiding and abetting a female in prostitution, lewdness or assignation."

The jury acquitted him on two counts of "permitting prostitutes to use his place of business and of knowingly, solicit or induce a female for the purpose of lewdness, prostitution or assignation."

LaMotta was tried on charges of steering a 14-year-old girl into a life of prostitution.

The one-time 160-pound champion who now operates a Miami nightclub was set free on a $1,000 appeal bond. Judge George Schulz, however, denied a motion for a new trial asked by LaMotta's attorney, Lucius Cushman.

Cushman called the verdict "unsatisfactory and a complete miscarriage of justice."

LaMotta refused to talk to reporters after the sentencing but woeully offered a terse "no comment." His blonde wife Vicki sat with bowed head in the rear of the Miami courtroom.

Centre Street Methodist squared its series with the Tri-State Roofers in the High School Division of the City Recreation Basketball League by winning the second game last night by the score of 39-38.

Chaney's Transportation defeated Burkey's, 51-42, to even its series at one-all in the Men's Division championship playoffs last night.

Both series will end Thursday night at Carver gym where the Tri-State Roofers meet Centre Street at 7:30 and Burkey's plays Chaney's at 8:30.

Sammy Snead Ties Mangrum And Holscher

Three Shoot 69s In Pro-Am Event

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Sam Snead and Ben Hogan joined the touring golf pros today for the first time this winter.

Snead tied for the lead in the opening round of the Seminole Pro-Am Tournament but Hogan had a fat 73.

Snead, now professional at nearby Boca Raton, had 33-69 over the 6,746-yard Seminole course where par is 36-72. He tied with Lloyd Mangrum, 33-66, and Bud Holscher, 34-65, both of Apple Valley, Calif.

Holscher teamed with Shaw Walker, of Muskegon, Mich., for 31-30—61 in the pro-am division. Walker, with a 9 handicap, helped Holscher by 8 strokes.

Gardner Dickinson, Panama City, Fla., and William G. Curran of Detroit shared the lead with 30-31—61. Curran, whose handicap is 13, helped Dickinson by 11 strokes.

Hogan teamed with singer Bing Crosby and they had 33-33—66. Hogan's individual score was 38-35—73.

Fourth among the pros was Jimmy Demaret, Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., with 33-37—70.

Redlegs Offer Seven Players For Newcombe

Swap Rejected, Bavasi Reports

VERO BEACH, Fla., March 19 (INS)—Brooklyn Dodger vice president Buzzy Bavasi said tonight he has rejected an offer from Cincinnati General Manager Gabe Paul to trade seven Redleg players for righthander Don Newcombe.

Bavasi insisted that he "hadn't taken too seriously" Paul's suggested seven-for-one swap for the huge Dodger pitcher who won 27 games last season.

Paul, who made a $300,000 cash offer for Newcombe after the World Series, refused to name the players he offered the Dodgers. Bavasi did not disclose their identities, either.

It is believed, however, that the most prominent name mentioned was catcher Smokey Burgess. The National League champions want additional help behind the plate in the event that Roy Campanella's injured hands keep him on the sidelines.

Newcombe complained that he hurt his pitching arm in the last game of the 1956 season and has reported "tightening" in the arm on various occasions this spring.

Paul said the proposed deal would hinge on whether the Dodgers would accept the responsibility for the condition of Newk's pitching arm.

Paul reportedly was willing to include infielder Alex Grammas and first baseman George Crowe in the deal.

The Redlegs, the power team in the National League, believe they can win the pennant with the addition of a pitcher of Newcombe's caliber. The 30-year-old Newk was the league's most valuable player and the winner of the Cy Young pitching award last season.

Guatemala Rejects Pan-American Games

GAUTEMALA CITY, March 19 (INS)—The Guatemalan government announced today that "it is not in a position" to be the host nation for the 1959 Pan-American games.

Guatemala, suggested as a possible substitute for the city of Cleveland, said it was financially unable to bear the cost of the games, estimated at several million dollars.

The games committee, meeting in Caracas, Venezuela, has extended to May 1 the deadline for Cleveland to make its final decision.

Owned by Mrs. Patricia Haun of Baltimore, See Me Go took command a half mile from the finish and lengthened his lead to a three and a half length margin before flashing into the wire.

See Me Go, ridden by Dave Gorman, turned the one and a sixteenth in 1:47 1/5, paying $9.60, $4.80 and $3.60; Flowing paid $8.80 and $4.80, while Slipperoo returned $3.20.

See Me Go, a son of Saggy and Maidofthemoon, who was offered for sale as low as $1,500 last year, has been first in two allowance races at this meeting. The first time, however, he was disqualified and placed fourth.

The Hammer Posts 3rd Straight Win At Florida Track

MIAMI, Fla., March 19 — Cain Hoy Stable's The Hammer, odds-on at 4 to 5, gamely charged to his third straight triumph in the $4,000 Seventh event at Gulfstream Park today.

A crowd of 14,866 that turned out in clear, sunny weather saw the highly improved son of My Babu stand off several strong challenges and hold sway by a neck.

Mrs. H. C. Fruehauf's Barbarian was second, three lengths before Blue Stone Farm's Incase-offire. Fourth in the field of eight 3-year-olds was W. G. Reynolds' Prince Killer, another neck away.

The Hammer, bred by his owner Harry F. Guggenheim, who was present, paid $3.80, $2.50 and $2.40.

Calumet Trio Enters $15,000 Florida Race

Gen. Duke, Barbizon, Iron Liege To Vie

HALLANDALE, Fla., March 19 (INS)—Calumet Farm sends forth tomorrow probably the strongest entry on any U. S. race track—Gen. Duke, Barbizon and Iron Liege—in the 11th running of the $15,000 added Fountain of Youth Handicap at Gulfstream Park.

The handicap is considered a testing ground for three-year-olds aiming for the $100,000 added Florida Derby on March 30.

The fleet Calumet trio heads an expected field of 13 horses and if all leave the post, the race will be worth $18,995.

Included in the field are J. S. Kelly's entry of We Trust and Assail; Cain Hoy Stable's Lucky Dip; Dixiana's Safe Message; H. G. Jones' Sunday Star; E. H. Woods' Roman Request; and G. F. Strickland's Balaklava 2nd.

Willie Hartack, Calumet's ace stakes jockey, will be up on one of the stable's horses, probably Gen. Duke, his favorite.

Gen. Duke captured the Everglades and was second in both the Bahamas and Flamingo at Hialeah this year. Iron Liege finished third in the Everglades and Flamingo, while Barbizon, 1956 juvenile champion, was second by a nose in his lone start this winter.

Racial Integration In Athletics Banned By Montgomery, Ala.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 19 (AP)—The City Commission today passed an ordinance prohibiting racial integration in all athletic events in Montgomery and making violation a misdemeanor.

Introduced by Police Commissioner Clyde Sellers, the law was approved unanimously by the three commissioners, all of whom are members of the White Citizens Council.

The ordinance prohibits racial mixing at baseball, football, basketball and softball games in the police jurisdiction of Montgomery and includes all other athletic contests.

Tigers Strong With Bat And On Mound; May Make Grade As Flag Contender

Billy Hoelt, Paul Foytack, Steve Gromek and Frank Lary.

James Small

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

LAKELAND, Fla.—Some baseball observers predict the Detroit Tigers may be the team to give the champion Yankees a tussle for the title this year and others think that the Tigers, despite a new manager and a good finish last year, still haven't improved enough and will find it rough to gain a spot in the first division.

Here in Tigertown the new Bengal skipper, Jack Tighe, and the Bengals themselves figure they're going to be tough to beat.

"These boys think they're going to be a tough ball club. If we can come up with another pitcher and stay away from injuries we will be a tough ball club! Of course, the team you have to beat is the Yankees and that won't be easy."

The new skipper of the fifth-place Bengals speaks with sincerity and truthfulness in discussing his squad. He gives you plenty of time and is as courteous a big league manager as you will find.

"We want people to think of Detroit," he explains, "as a pretty nice outfit." He already has succeeded on that point.

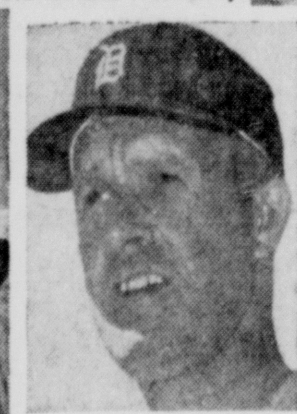

"I would say that our hitting is our strong point," Tighe said. "Our pitching," he continued, "could be a close second. We must come up with another starter and we may have to get him from here. Our thin point is our outfield reserves."

The Tigers under Tighe are spending a lot of time on fundamentals and on practicing alertness on the bases. "It's the little things that beat you in a game," explained the skipper, "and we're hoping to clear those up right now."

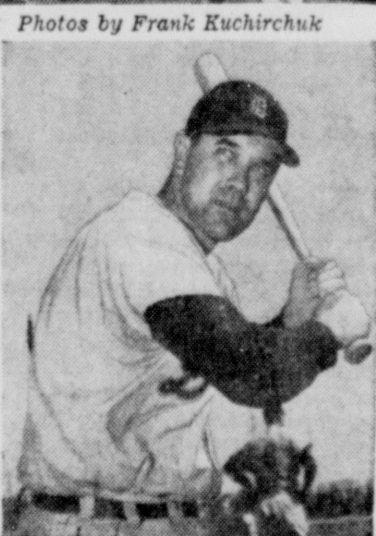

The Tigers' pitching is headed by the southpaw, Billy Hoelt, 20-14 last year; Frank Lary and Paul Foytack, righthanders, and the old veteran, Steve Gromek. Lary won 21 last year and Foytack turned in 15 victories. Gromek will be used in the bullpen except for spot appearances.

"Our next man," Tighe revealed, "will have to come from one of three pitchers, Jim Bunning, Duke Maas and Don Lee."

Al Aber, who has dropped 24 pounds, and Jack Crimian, from Kansas City, also will be bullpen residents.

Five Circuit Belts Feature 6-5 Battle

Tighe plans to carry but two catchers, Frank House and Bob Wilson, both good defensively but light with the stick. J. W. Porter, the bonus beauty, has been switched to the outfield for good.

Ray Boone, who has been the third sacker, is being given the first base job unless Eddie Robinson, who spent last season with the Yankees and Athletics, can win the job with his hitting. Then Boone would return to third.

Harvey Kuenn is the star shortstop, Orville Inman Veal, is on deck, but he won't hit. Tighe is high on his fielding ability, however.

Al Kaline, who has picked up 14 pounds; Charley Maxwell, who had such a great year last season, and Bill Tuttle are the outfielders.

A bonus boy in the outfield is Jim Small, a good hitter and a confident kid. He could win an outfield spot.

Captains Top Legion League By 11 Games

The Captains maintained their 11-game lead in the American Legion Mixed Bowling League by winning two out of three games from the Corporals on the Savoy alleys.

Buck Privates held second place by the margin of three games by winning a pair from the Sergeants and the Lieutenants made it three in a row over the Yard Birds.

High scorers: Captains—Guy Shaffer 416, Ruth Dye 303, Corporals—Rogers Norris 430, Catherine Barnard 263, Buck Privates—Paul Shanski 378, Martha Rhind 294, Sergeants—Harry Grove 332, Wilhe Griffith 267, Lieutenants—Herman Zembower 567, Margaret Graim 278, Yard Birds—Connie Dye 375. Standings:

North, South Women's Golf Opens Today

Sixty To Compete At Pinehurst, N. C.

PINEHURST, N.C., March 19 (AP)—The 55th annual North and South Amateur Golf Tournament for women opens here tomorrow with two Pacific Coast entries heading the field of more than 60.

Nineteen-year-old Anne Quast, University of Washington student, comes here fresh from a brilliant performance in the Titleholders event at Augusta. Ga. Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., won three Florida tournaments in a month to take the winter circuit spotlight.

Miss Quast, winner of the Western Amateur last year, also won a Florida tournament this winter, the Helen Lee Doherty at Fort Lauderdale.

She finished second in a strong field of professionals with a 299, three shots behind winner Patty Berg in the Titleholders last Sunday.

Her only other Pinehurst tournament was last year when she dropped a 21-hole semifinal duel to Wanda Sanches of Baton Rouge, La.

Miss Romack won here in 1952 and her bid to repeat last year was thwarted in the quarterfinals by eventual winner Marlene Stewart.

Tigers May Trade With Baltimore

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz., March 19 (AP)—Muddy Ruel, front office executive of the Detroit Tigers, has arrived at the Baltimore Orioles' training camp here with the admitted purpose of talking trade with the Orioles.

"I didn't make this trip for pleasure," Ruel said. "I don't want to mention any names because my talks here will simply be of an exploratory nature. I expect to stay a week or 10 days."

Ruel confesses, however, that Detroit has been trying all winter to acquire pitcher Ray Moore from the Orioles. The Tigers also have made overtures for Bird shortstop Willie Miranda, who is 19 days overdue in reporting to camp.

The Tigers have been experimenting with their hard-hitting shortstop Harvey Kuenn at third base this spring.

Yankees Top Braves, 6-5

McDougald's 2-Run Double Wins In 9th

BRADENTON, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Gil McDougald's clutch double in the ninth, driving in two runs, gave the New York Yankees a 6-5 victory over the Milwaukee Braves in a spring training game today.

Warren Spahn, pitching the first five innings for the Braves, limited the Yanks to seven hits but the ace southpaw successor, Gene Conley, blew a 5-2 lead as the New Yorkers posted their seventh victory in 11 exhibition games. Tommy Byrne, pitching three hitless, scoreless innings in relief of Bob Turley, got credit for the victory.

Milwaukee had one consolation. The Braves broke the Yankees' string of scoreless innings at 24 in the first frame.

Two homers accounted for the Yanks' first four runs. Mickey Mantle belted one in the fifth, driving in Billy Martin ahead of him, and rookie Woody Held hit for the circuit in the sixth with Martin aboard.

Felix Mantilla, Braves' shortstop candidate, got three hits in four trips to the plate, including a triple.

LAKELAND, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Joe Lonnett, a reserve catcher, greeted rookie John Tsitouris with a home run as the first man up in the 11th inning today and the Philadelphia Phils handed the Detroit Tigers their eighth exhibition defeat against two victories, 6-5.

Tsitouris was the fourth Tiger pitcher and Lonnett was the first man he faced. The Phils added another run in the same frame on three consecutive singles.

Rookie outfielder Harry Anderson drove in three of the Phils runs with a bases-empty homer and a two-run double. Fred Van Dusen, another Phillie newcomer; Harvey Kuenn and Charlie Maxwell also homered.

Stuart Clouts Two Home Runs As Buccos Win

Pierce And Staley Victims In 9-3 Tilt

TAMPA, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Rookie Dick Stuart hammered two 400-foot homers to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 9-3 exhibition baseball victory over the Chicago White Sox today.

Stuart slammed his first homer off Billy Pierce with one aboard in the first inning and the other was a solo off Gerry Staley in the ninth. He fanned his other three times at bat.

Stuart has collected five homers and eight strikeouts in four games this spring.

The Pirates thumped Pierce, Bill DuFour, Bill Fischer, Tom Flanagan and Staley for 15 hits. The Sox got only eight hits off Paul Minner and three rookies, Jim Rivera knocked in all three runs with a single and double.

Giants' Physician Pleads Innocent

NEW YORK, March 19 (AP)—Dr. Anthony M. Palermo, physician for the New York Giants Baseball Club, pleaded innocent today before Federal Judge Thomas F. Murphy to charges of evading $30,619 in income taxes from 1950 to 1952, inclusive.

A trial was scheduled for May 6 after $2,500 bail was set. Asst. U.S. Atty. Arthur H. Christy told the court that "the monies involved consisted mainly of dividends and capital gains in stock market transactions."

"We are in the same position today as we were yesterday, last week or last month. . . . Unless we receive an extraordinary offer, I think we will remain in basketball," Harrison said.

Piersall Belts Grand Slammer

Boston Red Sox Top St. Louis Cards, 7-6

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Jim Piersall hit a grand slam home run for Boston as the Red Sox edged the St. Louis Cardinals 7-6 today in an exhibition contest.

The third-inning blow was off Sam Jones, who was battered for eight hits and seven runs in five innings. Tom Cheney and Hoyt Wilhelm held the Red Sox in check in the eighth and ninth.

Willard Nixon and Frank Sullivan yielded 17 hits to the Cardinals but double plays stopped the Cards in the final two innings.

Rochester Rejects Cincinnati Offer

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 19 (AP)—The Rochester Royals of the National Basketball Assn. today rejected the offer of a Cincinnati syndicate to buy the club for $175,000.

Jack Harrison, part owner of the Royals, said he had notified Robert Siegel, head of the syndicate, that the offer was declined. Harrison said a certified $10,000 check which was forwarded to bind the deal, is being returned to Siegel.

"We are in the same position today as we were yesterday, last week or last month. . . . Unless we receive an extraordinary offer, I think we will remain in basketball," Harrison said.

Scholarships To Students Are Available

Seniors and graduates of public and parochial high schools of Allegany County, interested in scholarship must submit an application to the nearest high school principal, who will forward it to the State Department of Education at Baltimore by Friday, April 13, at 10 a. m. at Allegany High School.

Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of county public schools, announced yesterday any scholarship including tuition, room and board and books.

Other Colleges

St. John's College, full scholarship; Johns Hopkins University, one engineering scholarship for the county and two engineering scholarships on a state-wide basis; eight scholarships in arts and sciences or business on a state-wide basis, with all scholarships to the university open to men only.

Maryland Institute of Arts, one scholarship for evening or Saturday school courses; St. Mary's Seminary Junior College, one scholarship open to Allegany County girl; University of Maryland, one four-year scholarship worth $165 per year for boy or girl.

Hood College, no scholarship open this year. However, since occasional unexpected vacancies can and do occur it is advisable for all girls who are interested in a Senatorial scholarship for this college to take the test and have their score filed at the institution. When open the scholarship is worth $1,650 a year.

Teacher Scholarships

In addition to the Senatorial Scholarships the 1956 session of the Maryland General Assembly enacted legislation which will provide 608 four-year scholarships for prospective public school teachers in Maryland which will be given over a period of four years.

The number of scholarships available to Allegany County each year is seven. The recipient of these scholarships may attend any Maryland College approved by the State Department of Education.

The list of institutions may be obtained from high school principals. Since the scholarships are created to prepare teachers, each recipient must give bond that he will teach in the public schools of Maryland at least two years.

Any high school graduate or June, 1957 graduate is eligible to compete for these teacher scholarships provided he is a legal resident of the legislative district from which the scholarship is awarded.

Any persons already in college may take only the Senatorial Scholarship examination.

Small Child Escapes Injury In Mishap; Driver Is Held

An 18-month-old baby escaped serious injury about 5:30 last night when the car in which he was riding was struck by another vehicle at the corner of Baltimore Avenue and Henderson Avenue.

The child, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Davis of rear of 202 Springdale Street, suffered a slight bruise on the head when he was thrown against the dash of his father's car in the collision.

City police arrested Joseph Peter Carpentieri, 418 North Mechanic Street, a local brewery worker and driver of the second automobile, placing three state motor vehicle charges against him.

Officer E. Gordon Hite and Royce Clayton who investigated the mishap said the car driven by Carpentieri cut in front of the Davis vehicle which was operated by Mr. Davis. Carpentieri then drove away from the scene of the accident, the patrolmen added. He was held in $354 bond.

Boys Placed On Probation

Two West Side youngsters, ages 10 and 11, were found guilty yesterday in Juvenile Court of being delinquent minors after being arrested in the breaking and entering and burglary of a grocery store last week.

Magistrate Morris Baron suspended a sentence to the Maryland Training School for Boys in the case of the older lad and placed him under the supervision of Capt. Daniel K. Biggs, commanding officer of the Salvation Army Citadel.

The 10-year-old boy was placed on probation for six months as this was his first offense, Magistrate Baron stated.

The magistrate commanded both boys to be of general good behavior, improve their school marks, stay at home on school nights unless in the company of their parents, and to attend Sunday School.

Juvenile Court officials said the older boy had a record of several offenses and Magistrate Baron placed him under the supervision of Capt. Biggs who said he believed he could help the lad straighten out.

The two boys broke a pane of glass in a window of the Guido Brothers grocery store at 202 Foca Street last week and took about $36 in cash, four cartons of cigarettes, four boxes of cookies and a carton of book matches.

They were apprehended the next day and $33.55 and all the merchandise was recovered.

Senate May Get

Several legislators were upset this year upon learning that they had appropriated money for salaries of state employees. Many of the positions weren't filled, but it was spent anyway by the department.

A pay raise bill for Maryland State Police began moving in the House while the budget was being cut. The Ways and Means Committee gave approval to the measure, which will hike base pay as much as $500 for beginning troopers and $2,000 for captains.

The estimated cost to the state was placed at $280,000. It sets up a new scale which starts at $3,450 for all troopers, including recruits, and ranges through $6,967 for major. In addition to the base pay, State Police receive $1,300 a year as subsistence allowance and longevity pay based on length of service. Longevity ranges up to 40 per cent of base pay in some cases.

Benna Resigns As Principal In Mt. Savage

Alfred H. Benna, principal of Mt. Savage High School since the new school was opened in the fall of 1952, yesterday submitted his resignation to the Allegany County Board of Education, effective at the end of the current school year in June.

In his letter of resignation to Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster Mr. Benna said that his health was not good and asked to be considered for a mathematics teaching position in one of the county high schools for next year.

Mr. Benna came to Allegany County as a mathematics teacher at Fort Hill High School. He later was appointed principal at the old Barton High School and then moved to Mt. Savage when the new school was opened in 1952.

The Board of Education accepted Mr. Benna's resignation, Mr. Webster explained. The Cumberland Symphony Orchestra was given permission by the board to conduct rehearsals in the Allegany High School auditorium May 7, 14 and 19, and to hold its final concert of the season May 21 there.

Permission was granted for use of the Fort Hill Stadium for the Easter Sunrise service on April 21. The East End Playground Association of Frostburg got permission to hold a country music program in the Beall High School auditorium this spring.

Senate Committee Defers Action On Psychologist Bill

ANNAPOLIS, March 19 — A multitude of testimony was offered to the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee today in support of a bill which would set up a State board of examiners to license psychologists.

No one spoke against the proposal, but the committee deferred action pending. Several senators expressed a fear the bill might open the door for a "closed shop" in the profession.

Representatives of the Maryland Psychological Assn. told the committee that Marylanders currently cannot tell whether a person calling himself a psychologist has had appropriate training and experience.

Supporters of the bill presented a raft of letters from educators, psychologists, psychiatrists and physicians in behalf of the measure.

CONSTIPATED?

new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

AND, OF ALL LAXATIVES, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturizing capacity plus COLONOID's stretch-stimulating bulk that activates normal colonic reflexes. So effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy. SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98c for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

 Pass Pass Pass 4 hearts
 Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ace of diamonds.

It is not our purpose to suggest that slavish compliance with partner's signals in defense of an adverse contract is always indicated, but such signals should not be disregarded on a mere whim. Sometimes, to be sure, a defender has in his possession certain data which is not available to partner.

In such cases, he is privileged to choose a line of defense which is more effective than the one partner has in contemplation. Today's hand offers an example of a case in which East made an altogether intelligent signal which West justifiably overrode because he had pipe lines of his own.

North took no chances in being dropped somewhere along the line and went all the way to four hearts.

West opened the ace of diamonds. East played the deuce. West then shifted to the ace of clubs and East contributed another deuce. From his standpoint a club continuation did not appear advantageous inasmuch as he could visualize the defeat of the contract if his king of spades could be established before his king of clubs was dislodged.

Had West sheepishly followed the dictates of his partner and shifted to a spade, declarer would no doubt have run home with his contract. But West did some thinking for himself.

Even if East held the king of spades, which his play indicated, declarer could still not be prevented from winning the hand, for the defense would cash only one diamond, one club, and a spade. West's continuation of the club was based not on obstinacy, but on the conviction that he knew something which East didn't—namely, that East's king of spades might not live and that the contract, in any event, could not be defeated unless East held the king of clubs.

When East won with the king, he had no choice but to return the suit for the game saving ruff.

Secrets Of Charm

Good Taste In Attire

Much attention is upon the bride and her trousseau. But what the guest wears to the wedding is often a problem too. The woman of charm wants to be dressed appropriately for the occasion. And with a wedding ceremony, the time of day and degree of formality of the occasion have to be taken into consideration.

There are general rules of good taste in wedding-guest attire, which we list for you here:

Daytime

(Morning to 4:30 or 5:30 p. m.)
 Formal: Before noon — street length dresses, suits, hat, gloves.
 Afternoon — dresses may be a little dressier, hats are required.
 Moderately Formal: Street-length dresses, costumes, suits, hat, gloves.

Simple: Plain, smart daytime dresses, hat, gloves.
 For a wedding at 5:30 followed by a reception, the invitation will have a separate card enclosure stating whether dress is formal or not.

Evening
 Formal: Dressy late-day dresses, mid-calf, demi-longueur or ankle, floor length and dinner dresses (headcovering if church requires).

Moderately Formal: Dressy styles in late day or cocktail length (head covering if church requires).
 Simple: Day-length dresses, small dressy hat, gloves.
 If there is any doubt about wedding attire, it is always best to dress as simply as possible. The accent should always be on the bride.

Tomorrow: Weight Boosters.
 "WHAT'S YOUR LINE?"—Horizontal, vertical and diagonal lines make a world of difference in what clothing will do for (or to) your figure! Complete information on handling lines to best advantage. ## Dog Trapped For 36 Hours Gets Release

Humane kindness paid off yesterday for a stray dog trapped for 36 hours in a narrow passage-way between two buildings on North George Street.

The animal, estimated by city humane officer C. William Welsh to be between three and five years old, is believed to have been wedged late Sunday night while chasing a cat, or perhaps a rabbit, between the Spoerl Garage and the Public Service Market.

At 2 a. m. Monday, police headquarters received a complaint about a barking dog. Officers found the dog, part beagle, wedged but too far back to reach. Humane officer Welsh also was unable to free the dog by using a long pole.

C. Paul Roeder, who operates an adjacent parking lot, offered to cut through the wall of the Spoerl building to get to the rapidly weakening pet. Operators of the garage gave their consent.

The task took approximately an hour-and-a-half. A hole about ten inches high and two feet long was necessary for Welsh to reach in and free the animal.

She was taken to the Wilson Kennels, Valley Road, where she will be cared for by the Animal Welfare Society. The dog wore a collar but had no identifying marks.

Senate May Get Budget Thursday

Committees Agree On Likely Cuts

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, March 19 (AP)—Subcommittees of the House and Senate reached quick agreement late today on how much to cut Gov. McKeldin's budget and planned to bring the big spending bill to the floor of the Senate Thursday night.

Sen. Friend Charges State Gas Monopoly

Says Law Protects Company In W. Md.

Senator Clifford Friend (R-Garrett) said yesterday the present law enables the Cumberland and Allegany Gas Company to hold a "virtual state-protected monopoly on gas delivery in Western Maryland," according to an Associated Press dispatch from Annapolis.

He told the House Agriculture and Natural Resources Committee that the company is trying to extend this monopoly to gas production in the Accident field in Garrett County.

The senator spoke in behalf of a bill, already through the Senate, which would require that natural gas and oil pipelines be made common carriers.

He said the C. & A. company operates under a state charter giving it "a monopoly on distribution" of gas to nearby consumers.

Friend said the company now purchases gas produced by other companies in the Mountain Lake Park field but is attempting to monopolize production in Garrett County's other gas producing area, Accident field.

He said small, independent drillers own leases in the Accident field but do not work them because C. & A. has not agreed to purchase gas from them or rent pipelines to them for transportation. He said the independent drillers do not build their own pipelines because of the distribution charter held by C. & A.

The gas company will give the committee its side of the story on Monday.

Chamber To Aid Plant Staffers Get Located

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce is activating its file of homes and apartments for rent to help staffers of area industrial plants get located here.

The file will be made available to executives of the plants so they can secure temporary quarters while they are deciding where they will buy or build.

Virtually all of the plant executives who are transferred to the Cumberland area plants have homes in the communities in which they have been living, and want to find temporary quarters while they are disposing of their homes and are making arrangements for permanent quarters near their new posts.

The Chamber said the need for rental homes, or apartments with several bedrooms, is acute in the Cumberland metropolitan area, adding that only two of 15 men transferred to one plant several weeks ago have been able to find a home or apartment.

Most of the plant executives, it was explained, want to become acquainted with the area and its resources before making a permanent investment in a home.

Those who have homes or apartments for rent were urged to call, or preferably to write to the Chamber, giving full details of the available accommodations.

The Chamber compiled a similar list when construction of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant began, but that list has been exhausted for some time.

Pryne Becomes Subsidiary Of Emerson Firm

Keyser Industry Involved In Step

Pryne and Company, Inc., which has factories in Keyser and in Pomona, Calif., will become a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Emerson Electric Manufacturing Company of St. Louis, Mo., Ralph Pryne, chairman of the Pryne and Company board, and W. R. Persons, president of Emerson Electric, announced jointly yesterday.

The Pryne organization will remain intact and will be enlarged by Emerson Electric products which are identified with the building field.

Emerson Electric was founded in 1890 and has been a pioneer and a major producer in the field of electric fans and electric motors. Currently its commercial products include a variety of special and general purpose electric motors, electric fans, air conditioners, arc welders, bench saws and electric heaters.

Strong Divisions

In addition, Emerson Electric has a strong electronics and avionics division which is engaged in research, development and production of complex electronic systems, missiles and aircraft structures for national defense. It has factories in St. Louis, Washington Park, Ill., and Paragould, Arkansas.

Ralph Pryne will remain active in the firm. It is expected that he will be chairman of the new Pryne board. He anticipates gradual retirement over a five-year period, with an additional five years in an advisory and consulting capacity. Edward P. Kelly, president, and Phillip D. Pryne, vice president-treasurer of Pryne & Co., Inc., are expected to be members of the new Pryne board. Richard V. Burns will continue as vice president of Pryne in charge of the subsidiary's manufacturing.

"By pooling organizations and resources," Ralph Pryne said, "Pryne and Emerson will have a large, strong company serving the building field. Emerson realizes the importance of Pacific Coast facilities for its air conditioning and electric heater lines, as well as for Emerson commercial and industrial exhaust fans. Consequently, I anticipate considerable development of Pacific Coast facilities. The new arrangement will provide manufacturing plants on the Atlantic Coast, in the Middle West, and on the Pacific Coast, as well as the Pryne Canadian plant at Toronto.

Directors Enthusiastic

"Pryne directors and executives are enthusiastic about the future prospects of the Pryne operation as a part of Emerson Electric," Mr. Pryne further commented. "Emerson Electric is one of the largest independent motor manufacturers in the country. It is strong in the present fan and air circular field and has an important position in the field of air conditioning. This will greatly increase the base of operations for the Pryne sales force in particular.

"With the resources of a multi-million-dollar company behind them, the present Pryne executives anticipate being able to take full advantage of the coming boom in residential building which is predicted for the early 1960s. In the meantime, they believe greatly accentuated progress will be possible on current lines.

"Emerson has an outstanding record for growth during the recent years, particularly in the electronic and missile fields, and also manufactures complicated control assemblies," he said.

Pomona, Calif., will remain headquarters for Pryne operations.

United States Senator W. Stuart Symington of Missouri was president and board chairman of Emerson between 1938 and 1945.

Senate Adopts See's Resolution On Institutions

Senate Resolution 37, concerned with the operation of state institutions for juveniles, was adopted by the State Senate Monday night, according to State Senator Charles M. See, who introduced the resolution.

The resolution calls for the Legislative Council to study the state institutions in which juveniles are confined to determine whether it is feasible to create a new commission to take over their operation. They now come under the direction of the State Welfare Department.

Institutions concerned in the study are the Maryland Training School for Boys in Baltimore County, Montrose School for Girls at Reisterstown, Boys' Village of Maryland at Cheltenham in Prince George's County and Barrett School for Girls at Glen Burnie in Anne Arundel County.

YMCA Votes United Fund Affiliation

Another Community Chest agency has voted to affiliate with the County United Fund, Inc., and a third has agreed in principle and is expected to issue a formal statement today.

The Board of Directors of Central YMCA met Monday night and voted to join the County United Fund, according to Ernest B. Treat, president.

Details of the agreement, it was explained, are to be worked out between officials of the Red Feather agency and the United Fund in the near future.

Directors of the Associated Charities held a lengthy meeting yesterday to discuss an invitation extended by the United Fund.

A committee was named to meet this afternoon to draft a reply.

No report was given of the board's action except that it "agreed in principle" with the United Fund plan.

The Salvation Army announced Monday night it was affiliating with the new fund raising plan and pledged full cooperation.

Problems involved in the affiliation of Chest agencies with the United Fund are to be discussed at a meeting planned today at noon in the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Child Welfare Council May Be Organized

Meeting Planned Here Tuesday Night

A council may be formed here soon to coordinate the child welfare activities in Allegany County.

The plan for the council will be explained to all agencies and organizations which engage in youth work at a meeting Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the Board of Education office here.

Invitations to attend are being extended by Morris Baron, juvenile court magistrate; Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel for the Board of Education, and Mrs. Elinor Westfield, director of the Allegany County Welfare Board.

N. Gwynn Fletcher, recreation director, will represent the Cumberland Recreation Department.

The letters of invitation point out there are a number of agencies which work in the child welfare field but that they often do not come in contact with each other, although their operations lead to the same end.

The inviting organizations pointed out that their voluntary cooperation has resulted in an improvement in services to the community.

As a result of the success of the informal joint efforts, the agencies have called the meeting to discuss the question of better and more direct cooperation.

Youth Faces Trial, Father Arrested In Scrap Thefts

Donald Willard Swanger, 20, 119 Roberts Street, will be tried in Trial Magistrates Court today on a charge of petit larceny.

He will be tried today at 10 a. m. on a charge of obtaining $47 from scrap metal taken from railroad property. Swick faces prosecution on violation of his parole and probation in the case, Lilya stated.

Meanwhile Swanger's father, 41-year-old Jesse Swanger, has been arrested by West Virginia authorities in Keyser on a charge of grand larceny.

He was taken to Mineral County Jail on Sunday and yesterday was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Gay Mellon on a charge of stealing four automobile storage batteries from the Faulk Brothers scrap yard in Keyser.

Spring Season Officially Begins This Afternoon

The season of spring, anxiously awaited by everyone, will be ushered in this afternoon and temperatures during the afternoon are expected to range from 45 to 50 degrees in the west portion of Maryland.

Officially the vernal equinox or spring, will begin at 4:17 p. m. today. The weatherman promises partly cloudy skies, windy and somewhat milder temperatures.

Company Seeks Higher Limit On Bridge Load

Will Discuss Plan On Friday

The Cumberland Cement and Supply Company, rear of 419 North Centre Street, wants the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to raise the load limits on the improved Locust Grove Bridge across Wills Creek in the Narrows to more than its present 20,000 pounds.

J. G. Stevenson, clerk to the commissioners, was authorized to invite officials of the company to meet with the commissioners at their next meeting from 10 a. m. until noon Friday.

The company's letter explained that officials of the firm now are in the process of making improvements to their glass sand mining operations which requires movement into the area of construction and process machinery exceeding the weight load of the bridge.

An independent structural analysis of the bridge has been prepared at the request of the company and this study indicates that the bridge is capable of carrying safely the loads required by the company. The written request came from George A. Diehl, secretary of the firm.

Harry Winerling, who lives on Harold Street in LaVale, appeared at yesterday's meeting of the commissioners to ask for correction of a condition caused by water running off a bank and damaging his property. The matter was referred to County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman.

County Commissioner C. N. Wilkinson reported that Fred Bloss, RFD 1, Oldtown, and three of his neighbors whom he identified simply as Mr. Wolf, Mr. Shippe and Mr. Twigg, had complained to him about the condition of a ditch in the rear of their homes and asked that something be done about it.

The commissioner also said that Robert Shaw of Oldtown had complained to him about trees on his property along the Oliver Belt Road which county road workers had cut down without his permission.

Mr. Chapman reported that county road workers had cut brush all along Oliver Belt Road and only Mr. Shaw had complained. He said the workers had thought the property belonged to a Mr. Yonker.

Citizens Asked To Comply With Garbage Rules

The Health Department yesterday urged residents of this city to help keep the city clean by complying with garbage collection regulations.

Trouble has been encountered in recent weeks, officials said, when garbage was placed outside too early, and when it was put in paper containers.

Many of the containers placed on the curb in early afternoon, and without covers, have been knocked over and their contents spilled on the streets.

Garbage collectors are not allowed to pick up garbage in paper containers. Experience has shown that even a little dampness is enough to loosen the glue and allow the contents to fall into the street as paper boxes are picked up.

Garbage and ashes should be placed in metal containers with close-fitting metal tops. The containers must hold not more than a bushel or the contents weigh more than 40 pounds. They should be put out after sundown on collection nights.

Household rubbish should be placed in suitable baskets, and paper and cardboard boxes must be folded and placed in bundles and tied with stout cord.
